SUMMARY

The Georgian people have a proud Christian heritage and have survived waves of Islamic advance. To be Georgian is to be Georgian Orthodox. Most Georgian people would view any other church, besides the Georgian Orthodox Church, as a cult. This puts intense pressure on the followers of Jesus in the Republic of Georgia.

Join a team from FBC as they travel to Georgia and reach out to the Georgian people. You will meet Gia Bakhtadze, a Georgian believer who has planted a church in Tbilisi. Gia has been a supported partner from FBC for many years and always enjoys the encouragement of FBC joining him in summer outreach. You will also spend time holding Bible studies among Russian refugees who live in the mountains surrounding Tbilisi.

Who - We are looking for people who love Jesus. No previous mission experience is necessary.

Health - You should be in average to good health.
